Sandra Clements has been known for the last 40 years as a notable figure in the antiques, auction, and interior design trades. She honed her craft at an early age under the tutelage of her father, iconic antiques dealer Charles W. Clements, Sr. She became one of the South's first and best female antiques auctioneers.

She established her own antiques business in Destin, Florida during the mid-80's where her large showroom was known as The Emerald Coast's finest shop. Her business acumen was well-known from New York to London where she excelled in all aspects of the antiques trade. Sandra also became known as one of the South's finest Interior Designers as she designed many fine homes in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Virginia, and California.

Upon her retirement, J. Garrett Auctioneers of Dallas is proud to offer her entire corporate and much of her personal collection, the majority without reserve!

This auction is a once-in-a-lifetime event featuring some of the finest antiques and art J. Garrett has ever offered!
Online and live bidding is available.

-Highlights include a great assortment of Boulle, palace-size Sevres vases, Sterling, rare life-size Italian statuary, a nice collection of Imari, Meissen, Baccarat chandeliers and accessories, Lalique, religious paintings, blackamoors, bronzes, unique lighting, and mirrors.

-Plus the American antiques collection of Dr. Marianne R. Hopkins. Dr. Hopkins amassed a fine collection of American cherry and pine case pieces, wonderful clocks, blue willow, primitives, and nice early paintings.
