November 2, 2019 | Dallas | Live & Online

LAST CHANCE TO CONSIGN TO OUR LANDMARK NOVEMBER "LINCOLN AND HIS TIMES" AUCTION
Final deadline for consignments to be in-house is September 11

Terrific material has already been consigned, and this auction is shaping up to be even better than our first highly successful "Lincoln and His Times" Auction, which generated over $2 million in sales! Pictured here are two of the highlights already committed to the auction. Don't miss this opportunity to offer your items in this high-visibility venue. Appropriate material would be not only items directly related to Lincoln, but also to the Civil War, other leading political figures of the period, and social movements such as abolition and women's rights. To qualify, items must be valued at $500 or more.

This will be one of the most memorable Lincoln auctions ever presented, and there will never be a better time to bring your auction-worthy material to market!

For more information, or to discuss consigning to our next auction, please contact Tom Slater (TomS@HA.com, 214-409-1441) or Don Ackerman (DonA@HA.com, 214-409-1736).

Highly important huge 45" x 60" multicolor Lincoln and Johnson 1864 campaign broadside, one of only three known examples and the only one ever to appear at auction. Another is in the collection of the New York Historical Society, while the third is deeply ensconced in a leading private Lincoln collection.

Superb George Clark ambrotype of Lincoln used in the 1860 campaign, taken from the iconic Brady photo. Taken by Brady on the occasion of Lincoln's address at Cooper Union in New York, which launched the candidate to national prominence.
