

Bid NOW! Online from Anywhere!

Hudson River Views Art Auction Ending 2/16

AUCTIONEERS NOTE: This curated auction is from the personal collection of Robert & Susan Doyle of Fishkill, NY. The Doyle's are offering sixty-two American 19thC Hudson River School paintings at auction. All paintings in this offering are original works and almost all have been professionally cleaned and conserved. The first American School of Art is known as "The Hudson River School," consisting of mid nineteenth century "Nature Painters" who found spirituality in nature. These adventuresome artists hiked to see impressive Views. They sketched and did studies in the field to bring back to their studios to create finished paintings. The Hudson River served as the main route of travel to the best places, as well as provided the best subject matter. New York City, with the National Academy of Design to exhibit at, was the center of the American Arts world in the 19thC. These "Nature Painters" celebrated and depicted the pristine magnificence of the American landscape of the 19th Century on their canvases. Now you can experience the beauty, tranquility and grandness of Nature from the first American School of Art, the Hudson River School. Register and Bid now!

Artists include: Thomas Benjamin Pope (1834-91), Fred Pansing (1844-1912), Calvin Curtis (1822-1893), Edmund C. Coates (1816-1871), Granville Perkins (1839-95), George Gunther Hartwick (1817-1899), William Rickarby Miller (1818-1893), Cyrus Cobb (1834-1903), Frank Anderson, Henry W. Kemper (1833-1894), Walter Mason Oddie (1808-1865), Frederick J. Sykes (1851-1926), George Lafayette Clough (1824-1901), Annie Cornelius Shaw (1852-1887), Edmund Darch Lewis (1835-1910), Charles Henry Chapin (1830-1889), Antonio Nicolo Gasparo Jacobson (1850-1921), William Hart (1823-1894) and more. Online Auction Ending 2/16 @ 8PM. Preview: Available online 24 hours or by appointment to "Registered Bidders" only from Wednesday February 2 to Wednesday February 16 in Fishkill, NY. To schedule, email our office at info@AARauctions.com

AARauctions.com