Offering at auction with no reserves, the museum quality antique Valentine's Day card collection of Agnes McDonald.

Ms. McDonald began her collection when she started purchasing antique cards for decoupage but found some of the cards to be so beautiful and in such excellent condition that she didn't have the heart to cut them up. Thus began a lifetime of collection. Now in her nineties, she would like to see these cards go to other collectors who will cherish them as much as she did.
