To that, Limited Edition Club copies of Twain's (1942) "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," and (1939) "The Adventures of Tom Sayer," illustrated and signed by Thomas Hart Benton are just a few of the fine press offerings to be had.

For lovers of fine fiction, we have 1st edition copies of: Salinger (1961) "Fanny and Zooey," Kipling (1897) "Captain Courageous," Sparks (1996/signed) "The Notebook," with (1999) "A Walk to Remember," Dickens (1853) "Bleak House," and Hemingway's (1929) "Farewell to Arms," the 1st UK edition, 2nd state.

Or how about a 1st edition of "The Discovery of the Amazon," by De Carvajal. This copy once belonging to Barnum Brown the paleontologist who first documented the remains of Tyrannosaurus Rex. Interested in firearms? There are several lots to choose from including 1st edition signed copies of Antaris "Star Firearms" and Wilkerson's (1978) "The Post-War Colt Single-Action Revolver."
