

Portrait of Sitting Bull by Caroline Weldon. Thought to have been lost, this 1890 painting of the Lakota Sioux icon was painted by the subject of a movie starring Jessica Chastain, Woman Walks Ahead (2017).

Large selection of autographs and historic documents, never offered for sale at auction. Includes presidents and important figures from American history, 1650 to WWII. All are unconditionally guaranteed to be authentic.

Theodore Roosevelt's own pocket watch. Referenced in multiple family letters, and carried with him in Cuba and Africa.

Several dozen antique and modern firearms: Colt, Smith & Wesson, Winchester, Remington, Browning, Starr etc.

American art, including two signed etchings by artist Thomas Hart Benton, "Jesse James" and "Frankie & Johnnie"

"Little Sure Shot"

Personal items of sharpshooter Annie Oakley

A carriage clock, a birthday present to Oakley in 1887. Engraved "Annie Oakley" on top. In her possession, according to family history, at the time of the 1901 train accident in which she was seriously injured.

A personal check signed to her niece, 1926.

Several books from Oakley's personal library, including several that are signed. One of the books is inscribed to her husband, Frank Butler, by its author, bandleader John Philip Sousa.

Obtained with written provenance from a direct descendant of Annie Oakley's niece.

1952 Bowman Mickey Mantle, PSA 7

Auction begins at 12 Noon ET, Saturday, March 18. Preview Friday, March 17, 10am-5pm or by appointment.

5251 - 110th Avenue North, Suite 118, Clearwater, FL 33760 AB3560 AU4187