Opening day at Old Kinderhook Auction Company as we welcome you all to Willie's May Haze. We've called up a cast of offerings from all over, and some just a bit outside. Leading off will be an assortment of frames and fine art, together with a selection of ethnographic and archaic antiques, with a field of rugs batting clean up. Second day of our double header starts out with the largest offering of Nippon porcelain ever assembled, followed by more fine porcelain and glass. Into the stretch we have some great Asian antiques, and a slugger's worth of silver. So come on out, bring your bats and your bid cards, because this is Major League.
